Culinary Indulgence

In the past two months, students and guests have eaten their way across three different continents at A-viva culinary events. The culinary journey began with a French dinner, followed by Asian gourmet evenings featuring delicacies such as Japanese sushi and Chinese flying noodles. Finally, the enthusiastic eaters ended with a Latin American Night that was kicked off by spicy Mexican entrées followed by a sizzling hot salsa party, which lasted until the early hours of the morning.

Philosophy

Food for thought was also part of the menu.
A-viva hosted another "Philosophy and Wine" evening, inspiring participants to exchange philosophical points-of-view on the German-French existentialism of Heidegger and Satre while sipping robust red wines.

Outdoors

Exiciting events were not only taking place inside A-viva, but also in several other notable locations as well. One excursion introduced A-viva students to Johannisberg castle in Rheingau, the oldest riesling region in the world. Students were also given a tour of the romantic Heidelberg castle, enlightening them with an educational mix of history and local culture.

With all the traveling and eating, A-viva members made sure to stay in shape by participating in the JP Morgan Chase Corporate Challenge. A-viva runners quickly passed almost 70,000 co-runners giving them all a glimpse of the back of their A-viva t-shirts, which stated "Eat my Dust."

Upcoming Events

Here is what A-viva is cooking up for the summer: book reading from a local Frankfurt author, Mika Numa Shayegi, a Korean festival, a French soirée, another hot salsa night, and a very merry unbirthday party, just to name a few.

But to really know what is going to happen at A-viva, there is only one thing to do: be here! We are looking forward to seeing you at A-viva!
